Healthier air in Rotterdam

In some areas of Rotterdam the air quality is inadequate. In order to change that, Rotterdam is keeping old, polluting vehicles out of the city. One of the measures being taken is the so-called 'milieuzone', or environmental zone. Driving or parking in the environmental zone with a vehicle that is not allowed? You risk a fine of EUR 90.

The following vehicles are not allowed in the environmental zone:

- Trucks with a diesel engine that fall under stages Euro-I, Euro-II and Euro-III of the EU emission standards.
- Delivery vans and passenger cars with a diesel engine with a Date First Registration before 1 January 2001.
- Delivery vans and passenger cars running on petrol/LPG with a Date First Registration before 1 July 1992.

You can request a one-day exemption 12 times per year. A one-day exemption costs EUR 24.90 each time and is valid during 24 hours. You can submit your request digitally on rotterdam.nl. Payment for the one-day exemption is done here via iDEAL or credit card and you will receive it within a few minutes by e-mail.
